Membership Information

Overseas Members operate within the Metal Powder Industries Federation, an incorporated 501 (c) (6) trade organization. They share with affiliated associations the economies and other advantages of joint administration. Overseas members are subject to the policies and regulations of the federation. Membership is on a company or "corporate" basis.

Eligibility

The executive director of the federation in accordance with applicable bylaws shall determine eligibility for membership.

Acceptance for overseas (non-voting) membership constitutes membership in the Metal Powder Industries Federation.

Membership Dues and Representation

There are no initiation fees. Payment of dues shall cover membership in the federation. Companies joining after the first quarter of the calendar year will be invoiced on a pro-rated basis to the nearest quarter.

Each company must appoint an individual to serve as its Official Representative who will be authorized to represent, and act for the company in the affairs of the Overseas membership. This does not preclude other individuals from the same company from participating.

The member company may also designate any number of additional individuals to serve as Alternate Official Representatives. A service fee determined by the Board of Governors will be assessed for each individual so designated to defray the additional servicing and mailing expenses.
