In matters involving agencies of the government and the interests of the industry represented by the Association, a formal position of the Association shall be established by means of the following procedures:

1. All members shall be advised of the subject to be discussed in advance of any regular or special meeting through a formal meeting notice and agenda with as much advance detail as can be prepared and circulated.
2. Adequate time shall be allowed for discussion at the meeting in order that all present may have the opportunity to express their views.
3. On completion of discussion, a motion for adoption of the position in principle may be made as a means of establishing a consensus of the membership present.
4. The above action shall not constitute the formal position of the Association until a written formal position paper has been prepared and circulated to the total membership by the Executive Director for letter ballot approval.
5. During the letter balloting process members may suggest revisions in the position which if adjudged substantive and not merely editorial by the Executive Director would require re-balloting.
6. The letter ballot shall provide for voting in the affirmative, the negative or abstaining. Adoption of a position requires that the total number of affirmative ballots returned shall be two-thirds of the total voting membership in the Association. Those members who vote in the negative shall be so advised of the results and shall have the opportunity to prepare a minority position paper if they so desire.
7. Upon issuance of the Association formal position, each member shall be authorized to use it in contacting congressmen and other representatives of the government, paraphrasing it as he sees fit, providing in doing so that the intent is not altered. Extra copies of the position paper shall be provided to all members requesting them for distribution per se.
8. The issuance of the Association position paper shall also serve as the basis of a release to the appropriate trade press by the Federation's Public Relations Director.
9. In such matters that may embrace the interest of segments of the metal powder producing or consuming industries beyond those represented in the Powder Metallurgy Parts Association, the letter balloting procedure described above shall be carried out under the direction of the Federation Executive Director.
10. In those instances where a formal position fails to achieve a two-thirds majority then all members are at liberty to prepare and issue their own statements, providing they do not by implication or in fact indicate that their view is endorsed by the Association.
